Local Team Of Clowns Has Top Rating

By FRED FROST

"The Clowns" the fun-making team of Point Loma Council No. 3947, Knights of Columbus, has gained a high reputation for amusement throughout the county.

Organized early this year by Richard Schneider, Jerry Hastings and Joe Larocco, the team has participated in a number of activities.

One of its first activities was participation in the Knights of Columbus Easter Party at Plumesa Park.

The team also played a part in the entertainment of 400 crippled children, an annual event of the Council.

"The Clowns" also were active in the ferry ride aboard the Star and Crescent ferry.

Ball Game

They participated in the San Diego chapter-sponsored ball game at Westgate Park.

A recent activity in which they participated was the annual barbecue festival at Father Peter's Mission in Santa Ysabel.

The team, which has added a fourth member, Gene Forsythe, is now busily engaged in preparing its 1964 program.

The highlight of this program will be the Knights of Columbus convention, with San Diego Knights as host. Schneider will be chairman of the clown activity.

"The Clowns," who usually take three hours to make up their faces for events, also have put together three acts which are hilarious.

Top Acts

One is a "flip on a balancing board," another is a tight-rope walking act, and a third is a disappearing dry-water act.

"The Clowns" often met with a clown of many years experience during their inception.

This clown, "Chick" Rooney, veteran of the Al Bahr clowns, was particularly helpful to the Knights Easter Party.

Big Boost

He assisted with makeup, furnished them with ideas, and complimented them on the success of their parts in this event.

Rooney was the victim of a traffic accident on Highway 80 two weeks ago.

"He was a true friend," Schneider said yesterday in reviewing the assistance that Rooney had given "The Clowns."

Each of "The Clowns" has a nickname. Schneider is "Cornelius," Hastings is "Clyde," Larocco is "Lobo," and Forsythe is "Sebastian."

The council, for whom the Clowns perform, is headed by James Schmitt, Grand Knight, and Joseph Larocco, deputy grand knight.

Dail Won't Accept Draft

Despite persistent rumors to the contrary, Mayor Charles C. Dail will not seek reelection as Mayor of San Diego.

Dail, in an exclusive statement late yesterday to the Sentinel, said he had been approached by several groups asking him to reconsider, but said he is too deeply committed to business plans to accept a draft.

When Dail steps out of office at the end of this year, he will have set a record for continuous service in elective capacities. He was elected councilman in 1943, and served until 1955, when he became mayor.

Highlights of his eight-year mayor career include the industrial park plan, master sewer construction, industrial diversification, re-development of downtown San Diego, and establishment of the University of California's local campus and the Salk Institute.

By PENINSULA PETE

Like all her fellows on the City Council, Helen Cobb has been receiving lots of mail on the U.N. lease matter. Here's her favorite quote:

"Isn't it a little impertinent for a city official not to recognize the philosophy of foreign relations that have been in existence since the days of Woodrow Wilson?"

You have something there, lady, but what it is, we're not quite sure.

We just ushered out the month in which the Independence Day of this republic is celebrated. Therefore, we urge every reader to do something typically American — like get acid indigestion.

It's sweet revenge when you make a long-distance call and the operator at your station gets the familiar "this is a recording" for an answer.

THREE MORE— These young ladies are the latest entrants in the Miss Peninsula Contest which will be held late in September. Posing prettily on a rock at the entrance to the flood control channel are, from the left, Bonnie Phelps, 16, of 4959 Muir Ave.; Gail Harris, 16, of 4344 Temecula St.; and Kris Backman, 17, of 4337 Temecula St. The girls measure, in the same order, 36-22-35, 37-32-37, and 36-26-38.

Bay's Development Took A Long Time

(Second in a series of articles on Mission Bay.)

First master plan for the development of Mission Bay was prepared by the City of San Diego in 1930.

This plan was modified from time to time over the next 15 years, but little work was actually done. It was depression time and the city shared the moneyless state of its citizens.

World War II came and went. As soon as peace was declared, business and civic leaders in San Diego became concerned with the post-war economic outlook and it was agreed that something should be done to attract more tourists to San Diego.

The city planning director labored and brought forth the latest master plan for development of Mission Bay as an aquatic park.

The bay's name had been changed as a result of a contest held in 1914 to select a fancier name than False Bay.

In those early years many citizens helped get the bay project, going and many claims have been advanced as to who did the work first.

"They all did fine work," says Les Earnest, Park and Recreation Department director, "but it is impossible to find out who was first. All I can say is that I wasn't!"

In 1945, the State Legislature transferred approximately 2,900 acres of tidelands to the city. That same year the voters of the city approved a $2-million bond issue to start bay development. By early 1946, the project was under way.

In 1949 the Federal government approved plans to develop a flood control channel so that the San Diego River would no longer deposit silt in the bay. Army engineers constructed two stone dykes extending from the west end of Mission Valley to the ocean.

New Channel

They also built a northern jetty and dredged a new channel into Mission Bay. To date, the Corps of Engineers has spent a total of $10-million on the project and the State of California has spent $3.5-million for realignment of public utilities and for construction of new bridges.

San Diego voters approved a second $2-million bond issue in 1950 and $5-million more in bonds in 1956.

'Project Amigos'

Dentists Contribute To Clinic In Tijuana

Members of the San Diego County Dental Society made a trip last week to Tijuana with thousands of dollars of dental equipment for the "Project Amigos" facility in that city.

Accompanying them were Kimball Moore and Julian Wise, assistants to the city manager.

Dr. Lloyd Cottingham, 735 Cordova St., is in charge of the project and explained how San Diego dentists are helping their colleagues across the border set up a clinic for the poor.

"City housing project buildings from Linda Vista were trucked to a location near the bull ring," Dr. Cottingham said. "These are being used for classrooms for vocational training, for a cafeteria, for a medical dispensary, and a dental clinic."

He said his membership has contributed outdated but still good dental equipment for the project which will be run by Tijuana dentists.

Top Schools "They're good," he said. "They now have excellent dental schools at the University of Mexico and at Guadalajara."

"We will continue to help," the dentist said. "We now have the nucleus of a clinic and, as dentists change equipment, they may contribute their old but still-good equipment for the clinic."

The group, led by Dr. John Campbell, society president, met with the mayor of Tijuana before delivering the equipment and inspecting the clinic.

UN Squabble Awaits Council Action

By HERBERT LOCKWOOD

Internationalism bumped heads Tuesday afternoon with isolationism, but it was the City Council that got the resulting headache.

Today is the day the matter of the United Nations Association lease in Balboa Park must be voted upon. It is highly likely that one or more councilmen wish the voting could be postponed forever, since, however they vote, they will be blasted by a considerable segment of the population.

Win Or Lose

By their vote today the three candidates for mayor serving on the City Council may win or lose thousands of votes.

More than 800 persons were on hand at 2 p.m., Tuesday in the aptly-named International Room of the El Cortez Hotel to see and hear arguments of proponents and opponents of the U.N. Association lease.

Ground rules were announced at the beginning of the session by Mayor Charles Dail, who stated that each side would have one hour to present its case and 15 minutes for rebuttal.

Number One Leadoff speaker was Vernon Gaston, president of the United Nations Association of San Diego.

"Some people would like to turn San Diego back into a village of geranium growers," he said to the echo of groans from his non-supporters in the audience.

Gaston said that his board of directors was composed half of Republicans and half of Democrats and that the organization was non-political in makeup. He said a non-partisan poll proved that 85 per cent of Americans supported the United Nations.

Groans

More groans proved that certain members of the audience didn't approve of his statistics.

He then read several excerpts from editorials run in county newspapers supporting the renewal of the lease.

"The Internal Revenue Department gives us a tax-exempt status," he said. "I worked with that organization for more than 20 years and know how tough they are."

Both Kinds

He said that not only UN literature is available at the Balboa Park headquarters, but also anti-U.N. publications.

"Much of this is slanderous," he observed. "It claims that 30 million people voted for a dupe in 1952 and for a Communist tool in 1960."

He was followed by Milton Filius, San Diego Chamber of Commerce president, who warned that San Diego would get the reputation of a provincial village if the lease were turned down.

Backers

Mrs. Gilbert Rohlf, president of the United Church Women of San Diego, said her organization backed the U.N. Association as did Mrs.

Jean Eason, League of Women Voters president.

"The San Diego Labor Council has gone on record as supporting the United Nations Association," John Quimby said.

"We use the association's speakers and literature in the education of our membership. We urge the council to put the association back where it belongs."

Supporting arguments were advanced by Mrs. Elizabeth Sears, of the Association of University Women; David Thompson, chairman of the youth exchange club of the Lions Club; and Howard Chernoff, who spoke for himself.

Pope Paul

A substitute speaker for Quinton Whelan said that Bishop Charles Buddy had, in turn, quoted Pope Paul as saying, "The Holy See holds a very high opinion of the United Nations."

Dr. William MacInnes, a Presbyterian minister and the spokesman for the San Diego Council of Churches, said both his church and the council supported the United Nations, and Rev. James King testified in the same manner for the Methodist faith.

Reasons

Clarence Callender, of the American Civil Liberties Union, said "Reasons given by Hitch, Evenson, and Scheide against the United Nations seem to hinder the free expression of ideas and discussion of public affairs. One of the three said he believed in Americanism—not internationalism."

Lou Katz, speaking for the San Diego Democratic Citizens Assn. had this to say:

Kooks

"If we cancel this lease, they are going to say San Diego is the area where the 'kooks' have control. We will attract the Ku Klux Klan and the Birchers and the rest of the extremists."

This last statement brought howls of protest from sensitive persons in the audience.

Much Remains For Beach Park To Be Reality

Late Thursday Gov. Brown signed over Ocean Beach Park to the City of San Diego; however, that's not all there is to it. Much remains to be done.

"The transfer will not actually be effective until sometime in September," Les Earnest, Park and Recreation Department director, said Monday. "A meeting will take place soon between city officials and representatives of the State Division of Parks and Beaches and the State Department of Finance to work out an agreement as to the park's use."

The "in trust" agreement carries a number of restrictions with it, he said.

Ocean Beach should not expect bulldozers and trucks to move in right away. As of now, there isn't a penny appropriated for the construction of the 5.3-acre park and it is difficult to predict where on the priority list of the Park and Recreation Department the project will end up.

The park faces a lot of competition from other parks already slated for construction at other locations throughout the city. Also, since the city is anything but flush, the park may have to wait until red ink turns to black in the city's books.

If the park is to be developed according to plan, more than $500,000 will have to be spent to do the job.

Few people realize how much work and worry went into the passage of Assembly Bill 2461.

Over the years a number of futile efforts were made to secure the park for the city; however, this year the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce asked Assemblyman Richard Barnes to sponsor the bill and he complied.

Trouble

It was evident quite early that the bill was in trouble and stood a good chance of defeat so City Manager Tom Fletcher, Les Earnest, Councilman Ivor de Kirby, and Tom Ham, Peninsula Chamber of Commerce president, flew to Sacramento and by hard "politicking" won the day—they thought. The matter passed the Assembly and Senate, but late opposition developed and bill supporters believed there was pressure being brought to bear on the governor to pocket veto the bill.

However, it was finally signed and is now law.

Ham said that if it were not for the hard work of many people—he did not mention himself, Ocean Beach would not have a park.

"Realizing the need for the development at Ocean Beach, Tom Fletcher helped in every way. Les Earnest not only helped, but came up with an speed-up in registrations for the Miss Peninsula Contest, but Mrs. Wendy Reynolds, contest chairman, reports more offers for goodies for the winner are coming in.

Here are the latest:

Madlyn's Pancakes will give breakfast for three people for two days, while the Beach Boy will foot the bill for a lunch for three people.

Dinner for three people will be supplied by the Bali Hai.

A steak dinner will be supplied for two people by the Calypso Restaurant in Ocean Beach, and a shampoo and set will be done for the winner and her mother by the Red Wig.

When that wears out, it will be done again by Bruce's Hair Styling, of Ocean Beach, and the winner will get a permanent wave at Pauline's of Ocean Beach.

Trouble?

Monument Roads Are Changed

If you haven't been to the Cabrillo National Monument for some time, you might have a little trouble with the roads.

Not only is work in progress on the huge new parking lot, but also on the roads circling the lighthouse.

The west road is now being torn up and will eventually be part of the landscape as will the parking areas south of the lighthouse now used by visitors.

The new parking area is half completed and should be ready for use in a few weeks.

"We will have a much better circulation of traffic," Supt. Don Robinson said this week. Now, the road around the lighthouse is a bottleneck. Too, people will be able to take pictures of the lighthouse without photographing a bunch of cars at the same time."

On the other side of the parking lot the new visitors center-museum will be built, probably next year.

The entire complex, lighthouse, museum, and trailside information stations, will be tied together by a series of rustic paths, Robinson said.

Maurcen Wins Sweepstakes Trophy Here

Maureen Connolly, 3765 James St., beat out two other finalists to win a coveted sweepstakes trophy last weekend.

Maureen was not available for comment since she has been deaf and dumb from birth.

She's a yellow dahlia. Entered in the specimen bloom show of the San Diego County Dahlia Society by owners Vic and Betty Kerley and daughter Vickie, Maureen, who measures eight inches across, romped away with the top prize.

Sunday's show was a warm-up for the society's annual show which will take place in two weeks at the Conference Building in Balboa Park. Support Maureen Connolly — Loma Portal's own!

Navy Lieutenant Commander Elmer L. Bingham, son of Dr. and Mrs. Elmer M. Bingham of 3410 Carleton St., recently reported for duty at the Naval Base, Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines, a key Navy facility in the Far East, located on the South China Sea.

Uncle Tom Dead Negro Leader Tells Council

"Uncle Tom is dead!" So proclaimed Afro-American Association head Joshua Von Wolfolk before the City Council Tuesday.

He branded several Negro leaders as belonging to this category and said, "This Uncle Tom 'nigger' who has cowed down to the white man—he's finished!"

Von Wolfolk said the black people don't think that the nice weather in San Diego will compensate for segregation and humiliation.

"The black man considers San Diego a 'cracker' town," he told the council. "He doesn't come to San Diego. He comes to the black ghetto of Logan Heights."

He then outlined the platform of his organization which, he said, has 500 members here and is gaining recruits at the rate of 100 a month.

"First, we want preferential treatment in jobs and training," he said, "to make up for the years he has been held back. Second, we want a share in the power structure. Third, we want to be treated as human beings by the police, not as dogs. Fourth, we want the formation of a human relations body."

The man who gets well-heeled is the one who keeps on his toes.

On Newport

Marc's To Have New Owner

Marc's Mens Wear, 4919 Newport Ave., changed hands this week.

Gene Tucker, former head of the men's department at Miller's West in Pacific Beach, bought the store from Marc and Cherie Straus.

"We will give all customers, old and new, a hearty welcome and the best service possible," Tucker said Monday. "I picked Ocean Beach because I believe this area offers great potentialities for future growth."

He came to San Diego from Vineland, N. J., in 1949 and joined the men's department of Muehling's in Pacific Beach (now Miller's West) and has been with that organization ever since.

Coming with him to Ocean Beach is his former assistant at Miller's West, Joe Kirkpatrick.

Tucker said he has no immediate plans for changing the name of the Newport Ave. store.

He and wife Dorothy live at 3644 Liggett Dr. They have two daughters: Marcia, 13, who goes to Dana Junior High School; and Rochelle, 10, a student at Silvergate Elementary School.

Marc's is located on the south side of Newport Ave., just west of Cable Street.

St. Peter's Interim Pastor Says Goodbye

The congregation and pastor of St. Peter's By the Sea Lutheran Church, 1371 Sunset Cliffs Blvd., said a reluctant farewell to their interim pastor, Edward Beckstrom and his family, Sunday morning.

Beckstrom, his wife Jean and son John are returning to Berkeley, Calif., where he will be completing his senior year at the Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary.

In addition to assisting and substituting for Pastor Vlad P. Benko, Beckstrom taught an adult Bible study group, instructed the first year confirmation class, sponsored the Senior Luther League and worked with the Loyals and the church youth committee.

As a token of gratitude for his work, Pastor Benko presented Beckstrom with a pectoral cross on behalf of the congregation. The Luther League gave him a personal Communion set and the Loyals gave him a hymnal.

Council's UN Headache

Wants Half

Kick-off speaker for the opposition was Jack Childress, of the San Diego Patriotic Society, who suggested that if the association's lease were renewed, his group would like to have half of the building so that they could put out anti-U.N. propaganda.

Attorney John T. Schall said the association has been in default in its lease which says it must comply with the municipal code.

"One rule is that no lessee may sell any items without written permission from the city manager," he said. "No application has ever been made for this permission, yet the association has been selling literature for years."

Earnest

Les Earnest, Park and Recreation Department director, later said that the association had not known that permission was necessary and had recently filed for permission to sell literature.

Schall claimed that the local group was merely a chapter of a "foreign corporation" and should be but was not registered in Sacramento.

Nothing To Show

Harvey Bailey said, "We have spent more than a billion dollars on the United Nations and have got nothing but gobbledygook."

He hammered at the U.N. so hard that Mayor Dail told him to stick to the matter of the lease.

Other speakers said that the association was political in character and that the municipal code had been violated.

Against

"We have always opposed the U.N.," Dr. G. M. Williams, national president of the Unity Science Churches, said. "The U.N. has not stopped wars and confusion. I'm for America first, last, and always!"

Col. Irving Salomon, former United States delegate to the United Nations, led the rebuttal with a comparison of the forces arrayed on either side. He said letters received by council members showed support for his group in a ratio of nine to one.

Folded

"We are a separate group here," he said. "Mr. Schall brought up a bunch of legal folderol. The association has outstanding plan covering the development of the park.

"Councilman Ivor de Kirby greatly assisted in the passage of this bill even though it requires the city spending a large sum of money for the park," Ham said. "Bud Porter, the city's Sacramento representative, counseled at all times on this bill and kept our council informed."

McKinnon

"Clinton McKinnon, owner of the Sentinel newspapers, interceded personally with the governor on this matter and the Peninsula News kept local residents informed of the bill's progress."

Ham commended Bert Betts, state treasurer, who, along with Dan Brown, "went out" of their way to help in getting the governor to sign the bill.

Mills

He said Assemblyman Jim Mills should be commended for his great legislative assistance in advising amendments to the bill to make it operative.

"He worked hard for the bill even if it was not in his district," Ham said.

He also commended Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson, Hugo Fisher, and Sherrel Luke for their work for the Ocean Beach Park.

Bay's Development

All told, there will be approximately $56-million in public funds and $50-million in private funds invested in Mission Bay by the time it is completed.

Upon completion Mission Bay will be one of the largest and most complete aquatic parks in the world. It encompasses a total of more than 4,600 acres; 2,500 acres of water; 2,100 acres of land.

Voters okayed another $3-million in 1960, but frightened by the local economic slump, voters failed to vote a $15-million bond issue last year; however, the matter will undoubtedly be brought before the electorate again before too many months pass.

Sailing The western portion of the bay has been developed principally for sailing, while the eastern portion is allocated to power boats and contains an official Gold Cup race course. This is the only aquatic park in the world designed and constructed around such a facility.

Mission Bay is of sufficient magnitude to accommodate a cup race in the northeastern portion of the bay, a sailboat race in the northwestern portion, a speedboat race in the river channel and still not interfere with water skiers, bathers, and fishermen in other areas.

Mission Bay is being designed to provide all types of aquatic recreation. These activities include shore, pier, and ocean sportfishing. Swimmers have available some of the finest beaches in the world with ocean swimming only a few hundred yards away.

Sufficient slips will be provided for 12,000 boats of every size and description. It's amazing what can be done with an ex-mud flat!

16th Anniversary

All Souls Church To Observe Founding

The 16th anniversary of the founding of All Souls Episcopal Church will be celebrated Sunday, at 10 a.m.

In the 16 years of its existence, church membership has grown from 39 to 1,300.

Services were first held in a Point Loma dance studio. The present church, formerly a chapel at Miramar Naval Air Station, was purchased by a church member, and was moved to its present site in 1949.

A church school building was added in 1952 and a two-story education building was added in 1957.

Chaplain S. Herbert Shears, United States Navy senior chaplain at Balboa Hospital, will be guest preacher on Sunday.

Chaplain Shears, upon retirement from the Navy, will enter the Church of the Divinity School of the Pacific in preparation for ministry in the Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Lawrence W. Pearson is rector of All Souls, and Chaplain Edward B. Harp Jr. is associate rector.

During the service a desk will be dedicated commemorating the services of Mrs. Theodore W. Gauss and her late husband in the founding

Don't Fix That Car In Street Ever Again

Rugged individualism got it in the neck again Thursday when City Council members voted to make it a misdemeanor to repair cars on public streets, except in cases of extreme emergency.

Such activities had been prohibited in business districts only.

Prior to the vote, Harry LaDou, War Against Litter Committee chairman, told why he thought the amendment to the existing ordinance was necessary.

"Oil, grease, and gasoline on the streets are not only unsightly, but constitute a fire hazard," he told council members. "Too, these products attack the surfacing of blacktopped roads and cause considerable damage."

He said he has received numerous complaints about this matter and said some car owners completely dismantle their vehicles while leaving the stripped skeleton of the vehicle on the street.

LaDou added that such work is even being done commercially.

A review of the ordinance brought out other obscure statutes concerning proper uses for automobiles.

For instance, no person shall stand or park any vehicle on the street while displaying a "For Sale" sign in or on it.

City Attorney Alan Firestone said it was illegal to keep a car on a public street for more than 48 hours at a time.

While you can still wash or polish your car on streets in residential districts, such activities are illegal in business districts.

Top Tunaman Retires After 46 Years' Duty

William L. Robinson, a veteran of 46 years in the tuna canning industry, will retire from his duties as vice president of production at Westgate - California Corporation effective today.

A graduate of San Diego High School, Robinson lives with his wife Ella at 1275

Sunset Cliffs Blvd., where they celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary July 22.

In 1917 Robinson was employed by the Neptune Sea Food Company. He worked 17 years for Neptune in their San Diego plant which stood at the present location of Lubach's Restaurant. Later he was employed by California Packing Corp. on Harbor Drive and, in 1943, the High Seas Packing Co. on Point Loma.

In 1950 Robinson went with Westgate as vice president and merged several small canneries into the Westgate-California Corp. During this period he designed and completely remodeled three tuna packing plants.

His successor, Joseph D. Mumma, 36, was formerly plant manager and staff assistant to the manager of the Van Camp Sea Food Co. before going to Westgate in 1961 as manager of quality control. In 1962 he was appointed assistant vice president in charge of production.

Garden Club Holds Meeting

Rosecroft Begonia Gardens was the location of the regular monthly meeting of the Civic Center Garden Club Saturday. Highlight of the meeting was a tour of the gardens.

Following this, the annual election of officers was held. Heading the organization for the '63-'64 term is James Saraceno. Other officers include Phyllis Cramer, vice president; Virginia Ingle, recording secretary; Ruth Kelso, corresponding secretary; Betty Elias, treasurer; and Alfred Pickhardt, photographer.

Committee heads are Elizabeth Matson, public relations; Arnold Landwehr, membership; and Majel Galoway, cook book.

We are a little puzzled about that last job. Never tried a fried begonia.

Live dangerously, if you wish, but don't do it on the highways.

Health Food Store Owner Is Believer

Enough Point Lomans are taking an interest in health foods to support a supermarket in Ocean Beach exclusively devoted to organically grown vegetables, raw milk, food supplements, whole grain products, and products to help you get rid of that midriff bulge.

The Nutrition Shoppe, 4944 Newport Ave., is operated by healthy Victor Gerardi, who actually practices what he preaches. No secret stuffing with store-bought bread for him.

No amateur in the field of nutrition, Vic majored in that subject at Seton Hall College in New Jersey and is working for his masters degree in the same subject at San Diego State.

"The field of nutrition changes so rapidly, the only way to keep up with it is to keep studying," Gerardi said. "It's a fascinating subject."

Vic bristles a little when he hears the term "food faddist." It brings to mind bearded weirdies eating nuts and grass—nature boys.

"What's a faddist?" he asked indignantly. "A faddist is a person who joins a movement or takes on an idea because everyone else is doing it, not because he has any awareness of what he is doing. We believe the person who eats food for no other reason than they are advertised on television is the faddist. Persons interested in natural foods, on the other hand, will be able to tell you why they eat what they eat."

Sparked by Rachel Carson's best seller, "Silent Spring," the story of the poisoning of the nation's food by pesticides, a campaign for use of natural vegetables, unsprayed and undoctored, has gone into high gear.

Vegetables on sale at the Nutrition Shoppe have not been sprayed in any way and only natural fertilizer has been used in growing them.

Why aren't they riddled by insects? "Because they are healthy plants, and unhealthy plants are the ones insects attack," Gerardi said. "It's harder and more costly to grow crops without pesticides, but in the long run we come out ahead. Pesticides kill the birds that eat bugs; they kill the earthworms that aerate the soil, and we are just beginning to find out what they do to people."

He sells raw milk and cheese made from this milk. "Cows are inspected a lot more thoroughly than are the ones at commercial dairies," the nutritionist said. "We also sell beef fed only on natural food."

"While we are not the fountain of youth, we do have natural foods which prolong youthful vigor. A person who feels well is not only happier but a lot more productive," Gerardi observed.

The Gerardis live at 3565 Wilcox St. He was on the city weight-lifting team the year before last and his wife, Marcella, was the national figure-skating champion in the early 50's.

Contrary to general belief, he said, nutritious foods are not tasteless. "Years ago, when shops sold only dried herbs and vegetables, this charge was true," Gerardi admitted, "but now you'll find foods that are nutritious are delicious."

In addition to foods and food supplements, the shop sports a food bar where meals are served.

"If you're on a diet, just tell us what your calorie allowance is for lunch, and we'll figure out a meal for you. For instance, I can make an egg salad sandwich that contains 150 calories and one that contains 400 calories and I defy anyone to tell the difference."

The Ocean Beach shop is the largest in San Diego and draws customers from as far away as Alpine.

JOSEPH D. MUMMA

Robinson Will Move To Crater Lake Park

From sunshine to blizzards, from palm trees to pine forests—that's the change in store for Donald Robinson, long-time Cabrillo National Monument superintendent.

He leaves next month to take a new post as assistant superintendent of huge Crater Lake National Park in Oregon.

Although the post is a promotion, it will mean a different, and in many ways a tougher life for the Robinsons.

"Instead of going three blocks to the supermarket in La Jolla, my wife will have to go 60 miles to Medford to go to shop—if the roads aren't blocked by snow," Robinson observed.

He said his boys will have to travel by bus 70 miles to and from school instead of walking a few blocks.

Compensations, however, there will be compensations, plenty of them! "There will be fine fishing and hunting up there," he said, his eyes glistening. "In the lake there are sockeye salmon, steelhead trout, and outside of the park, bear and deer."

He and his family will live at an altitude of 8,000 feet in a two-story house.

"We'll have to come out through the second story in the winter time. Drifts run up to 56 feet in depth," he observed with a bit of a shiver.

Crater Lake measures six miles by six and, as far as can be determined, formed 4,000 B.C. when a volcano blew its stack. The crater is now filled with water up to 2,000 feet in depth and it is one of the beauty spots of the world.

Skis, Sleds "It's quite a move from 80 acres to 250 square miles," Robinson said. "We'll have to put our bathing suits in mothballs and get out skis and sleds."

The Robinsons and their four boys live at 541 Gravitella Pl., La Jolla.

He took over the monument on Point Loma, July 7, 1947, when it was released to the Department of the Interior by the Army which had held it during the war.

"There was the lighthouse and an acre of sagebrush, little else," he said. "It was a one-man job. Now there are a dozen people working at the Cabrillo National Monument, more than a million people visit the installation each year, the acreage has increased to 80-plus, and we soon will have a museum-visitors' center that will become known all over the country."

Near Future He predicted that in the near future two million people a year will visit the Point Loma monument.

About his new post: "I'm looking forward to going up there, but I'm sorry I can't move the climate up with me. This will give Dad a free hand with all the publicity in the area."

His father, Fred Robinson, a Point Loma resident, is San Diego's unofficial seismographer and reporter on earthquakes.

Robinson does not know who will replace him.

"It is likely that he will come from some other national park," he said. "In the interim, head ranger Tommy Tucker will be acting superintendent. I hate to leave my friends here. You won't find a staff better than this anywhere."

AFL Exhibition Opens

Kansas Provides Opposition

Chargers Risk Perfect Pre-Season Slate

The San Diego Chargers put their unique, undefeated pre-season record of 12 straight victories on the white line Saturday when they clash with the Kansas City Chiefs at Balboa Stadium in the first American Football League exhibition of 1963.

This benefit game for the San Diego Traffic Safety Council, will have military overtones as the Chargers salute the aircraft carriers USS Kittyhawk and USS Ticonderoga.

The kickoff, to be preceded by dazzling and colorful pre-game ceremonies, is set for 8 p.m.

The Chiefs, formerly the Dallas Texans, may be making their first appearance as representative of that city, but the disguise is as ineffective as that of Floyd Patterson as far as the Chargers are concerned. They're not fooled. Be it Dallas or Kansas City, Texans or Chiefs, the Hank Stram-coached club is tough and brilliantly re-galed in tremendous personnel and technique.

Considering the Chiefs' exceptional talent, it is surprising that the Chargers hold a 6-2 (includes two pre-season victories) advantage in the thrilling series. In fact, the champs went so far as to believe that the San Die-gans were a jinx to them before gaining a 26-17 nod in the final game of the '62 season.

It's easy to see why the Chiefs are so awesome. They are armed with a bevy of All - Leaguers, quarterback Lenny Dawson, the AFL's "Most Valuable Player" last year, halfback Abner Haynes, end Chris Burford, tackle Jim Tyrer, guard Marvin Terrell, defensive ends Jerry Mays and Mel Branch, line-backers E. J. (The Beast) Holub and Sherrill Headrick and defensive back David Grayson, a San Diego boy. Also in the backfield is Curtis McClinton, last season's "Most Valuable Rookie."

Dawson was nothing short of sensational in '62, leading the league in passing with 189 completed passes in 310 attempts for 2,759 yards and 29 touchdowns. In addition, 221 carries, 13 of which he gained 252 yards rushing, suited in touchdowns. L'il Haynes finished second to Abner also caught 39 passes. Buffalo's bull, Cookie Gil- Charger coach Sid Gillman

Gala Pageant

Twenty-one communities will participate in the "Pageant of the Communities," which will precede the opening game between the "vastly improved" San Diego Chargers, and the American Football League champions, the Kansas City Chiefs, Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. in Balboa Stadium.

The game is being played as a benefit for the expanded program of the San Diego County Traffic Safety Council.

Each area will be represented by its queen, who will lead a unit composed of uniformed girls, carrying a huge cut-out letter spelling the name of the respective community according to Ray T. Blair, Jr., general chairman.

* * *

Participating areas include North Park, San Diego, National City, Chula Vista, Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, El Cajon, Santee, Lakeside, Vista, San Marco, Fallbrook, Encinitas, Cardiff, Leucadia, Pacific Beach, Ocean Beach, Point Loma, the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, and Carlsbad.

In addition there will be horsemen riding in full silver; dignitaries, celebrities, including Mrs. America; Fairest of the Fair; Miss Charger; the safest drivers in the area; bands, the Mother Goose float, and other units.

* * *

The colonel of the San Diego School Safety Patrol and his staff will ride in a covered wagon. All members of the City and County patrols and the members of the various Pop Warner football teams will be guests at the game.

Ozzie's band and the 80 Chargerettes also will perform, with tributes to both teams.

The game will start at 8 p.m.

Tickets are available at the San Diego Chargers box office and at box offices county-wide.

has a new look after a fashion. Not only does he have a new quarterback, 13-year veteran Tobin Rote, in his stable but some other "thoroughbreds," like halfback Paul Lowe, defensive end Earl Faison, ends Lance Alworth and Bert Coan, line-backer Chuck Allen and defensive back Charlie McNeil, who missed most or all of the last season due to injury.

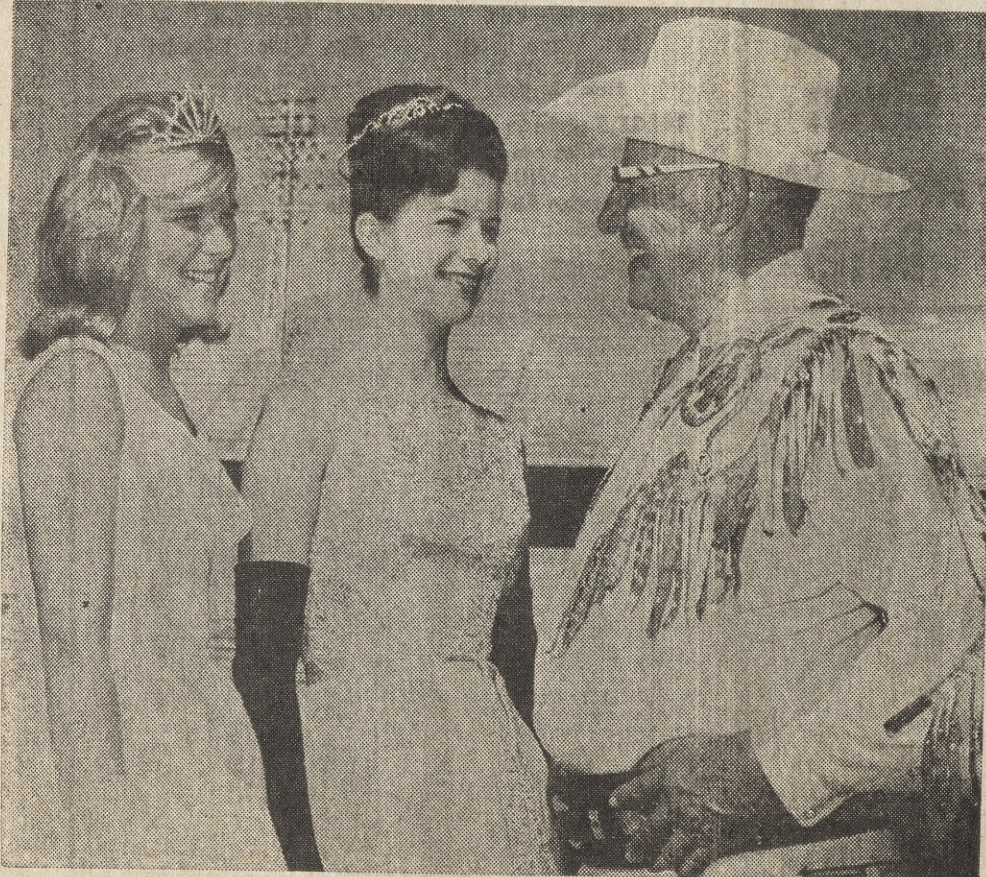

Other notables such as quarterback John Hadl, halfback Keith Lincoln, fullbacks Gerry McDougall and Bobby Jackson, ends Dave Kocourek and Don Norton, tackle Ron Mix, defensive tackle Ernie (Giant Cat) Ladd, line-backers Emil Karas and Bob Mitinger and defensive backs Dick Harris and Bud Whitehead and friends, remain sound.

Promising rookies include defensive ends Walt Sweeney (Syracuse) and Fred Moore (Memphis St.), defensive tackle George Gross (Auburn), defensive back Keith Kinderman (Florida St.) and line-backer Rufus Guthrie (Georgia Tech).

Thus, the Chargers, Western Division champions in '60 and '61, and their successors, the Chiefs, in '62 may well give an indication of things to come in '63 in the inaugural. Last year the Chargers won, 17-0.

Tickets for the game are on sale throughout San Diego County, including Charger headquarters in the Lafayette Hotel (297-4461) and the Imperial Valley.

The game should be one to remember—one, perhaps, of safeties for safety.

COMMUNITY REPRESENTATIVES—Three North Shores areas, Pacific Beach, Ocean Beach and Point Loma, will be represented in the colorful pre-game pageantry to be presented before the Charger-Kansas City San Diego Traffic Safety Council benefit Saturday. From left are Nancy Sonnichsen and Linda Hawkins chatting with E. Earl Allen, pageant director. Nancy is Miss Peninsula. Miss Pacific Beach, Jackie Henderson, will also participate.

Although the success of a pro bowler depends on his natural skill and ability, most of the nation's champion agree that old "lady luck" plays a big part in their future.

Because some of the pros are so evenly matched, getting the breaks can win or lose a tournament.

Dick Weber, who has won the most PGA (Professional Bowler's) Tournaments, attributes his five wins on the 1961 circuit to a terrific lucky streak. Weber said even when he hit light, the pins cooperated by knocking each other down.

Of course the pros have a lot of stuff on the ball and this enables them to get more action even on a bad hit, but you can't deny that the "breaks" can be important. A good chance to see pro bowling with or without the luck factor will be next month's PBA Tournament at University Lanes, Aug. 29-Sept. 1, where 128 of the big money winners like Don Carter, Dick Weber and California's own Andy Marzich will compete for $23,600.

PACIFIC PATS—The Tally-Ho's won the championship of the Tuesday Mixed Doubles League with the easy margin of seven games over the second place Hoods.

The pay-off and post-season sweepster will be held this week. The final high scores were: The Tally-Ho's 416, Law Mamede 1431, George Fischer's 236 and Terry Mendenhall's 797 were high for the men, for ladies honors, Dee Fleming's 201 and Edith Hood's 674 held up all the way.

Another finale was reported in the Pacific Recreation Classic Doubles League. The Aztec Bowling Supply team, Verne Boode and Jim Vanek, won the championship by a half game over the Tower Bowl duo of Jim Butcher and Frank Sylvester.

Talk about a close one. Owen's Beachboy (Sam Conti and Bill Kenet) came in third, just one-half point behind the second place team. This star league had a tough battle going throughout the season. Some of the top scores include a 486 high team game by Home Federal Insurance pair, Gene Engel and Ernie Cook, and they also accounted for the best series with a 2,024 total.

Next in line was the Piazza Walkley's 2,009 series. Gene Engel also made the individual star list with scores of 249-1080, other good efforts were turned in by Dan Boneventre's 226-1,035, Rocy Piazza's 228-1,025, Jack McLeod's 221-1037 and Frank Sylvester's 233-1,033.

THE NEW FRONTIER—The Junior Peterson Singles posted second week results showing Dave Thrallkill leading by a slight percentage margin. Dave, along with Steve Tallman, Bob Cook and Nick Nickols has five wins and one loss in the standings, but his total pins give him the advantage.

Mark Johnson and Steve Tallman had the weekly highs with Johnson's 586 and Tallman's 224. The highs are also on the season honor roll at present.

The Custom Trophy team is leading Norm's Mobil by 2½ games and the Kuzins are third. Jack McLeod was high for the week with a 248-644, but in spite of that excellent score he couldn't reach the 265 season game posted by Gina Semo or Wayne Noah's 670 series. This league has seen some real fancy shooting.

The San Diego DU Party, now rated as one of the top local social events of the year, usually ushers in the waterfowl season and is open to the public. Thousands of dollars worth of valuable prizes are donated and given away, and special entertainment is offered.

Serving with Caperton on the executive committee are Payne Johnson, vice chairman; Dr. John J. Wells of La Jolla, treasurer; and Vice Adm. C. E. Ekstrom, USN ret., of Coronado, secretary. All are dyed-in-the-wool duck hunters.

The 20th annual San Diego Ducks Unlimited fund-raising party will be held Thursday, Oct. 10, at Hotel Del Coronado. Tickets will again sell for $15 each.

Net proceeds from the roast squab dinner and evening's entertainment will go to national DU headquarters in New York for use in restoring waterfowl breeding areas on the Canadian prairies, where most North American ducks rear their young. Last year, $14,000 was raised in a single evening for DU conservation work.

Toby Caperton, 29, Poway resident, succeeds Dr. David Jessop of La Mesa as steering committee chairman. Caperton has been an active DU worker for many years. He said that special plans are underway to make the 20th annual party the best ever.

Representatives of 42 property owners who were present. "All property owners in the neighborhood are against this move," John Carr, 989 Scott St., said. "We all bought property here because it was R-1. Any zone change in this area would simply open the door to more downgrading."

Glen Franklin, 969 Scott St., predicted that the city would lose money if the rezoning went through. "We are paying high taxes that are adjusted to the zoning of the area," he said. "If the area were downgraded, taxes would have to be downgraded as well."

Col. Siefert said that a buffer zone was needed between the residential area and the Yacht Club Inn, built nearby several years ago. "You would think that these people would welcome a buffer zone," he told Planning Commission members.

The members didn't welcome the zone change either, and, at the instigation of Edward Breitbard, voted down the move 7-0.

Horsehiders Training For Tournament

Clairemont - University, American Legion District 22 baseball champs, are in Ontario today preparing for tomorrow's opening game in the Area 5 Tournament.

John Fink and Ken Henderson paced the locals to a 12-2 win over Post 461 (Crawford) Sunday, after Crawford won the first game of the double elimination tournament, 5-1.

However Fink's pitching and a 12-hit assault led by outfielder Ken Henderson gave Post 460 an easy win in the finale.

Fink, who impressively beat San Diego in nine innings Friday, struck out eight, walked three, and looked like he could go another nine frames.

Henderson, all San Diego CIF performer for Clairemont High this year, drove in four runs with a home run, double and single in five trips.

Clairemont-University, the regular season champ, broke the final game open with two runs in the fourth and three in the fifth to seize an 8-2 league.

Wayne Morgan kept Crawford's tournament hopes alive with a five-hit mound performance in yesterday's first game.

A sixth inning homer by Henderson was Post 460's lone offensive showing as Morgan mixed his pitches effectively and was given good defensive support.

Rezoning Dies With Planners

An attempt by Col. Frank Siefert, 975 Albion St., to have a lot in the area near the end of Talbot Street zoned R-2 for duplex construction was stopped Wednesday by the planning Commission.

Siefert testified that the proposed duplex would be located next to his own home, which he will build shortly and that it would not be a "washing on the line" duplex, but would blend in harmoniously with the neighborhood.

This cut no ice with representatives of 42 property owners who were present. "All property owners in the neighborhood are against this move," John Carr, 989 Scott St., said. "We all bought property here because it was R-1. Any zone change in this area would simply open the door to more downgrading."

Europe Cycle Group Grows In Numbers And Weight

(The following is the fourth of a series of articles by Cynthia A. Bean of Point Loma, AYH leader with the San Diego cyclists who are touring Europe. This letter dated July 24 was mailed from Rothenburg, Germany.)

By CYNTHIA A. BEAN

My group has grown in more ways than one. Since my last story from Luxembourg City, we've added to our group.

Jack O'Leary, a San Diego boy now stationed with the Army in France, arranged his leave so that he could be with us for at least one month of our tour.

He joined us in Luxembourg City and will ride with us to Geneva, Switzerland, where he will leave us and finish the last phase of Army duty.

In Heidelberg, Dr. Clifford L. Graves joined our group for a little more than a week. He has been leading our other group which went north into Norway and Denmark while we saw Holland and Belgium.

Dr. Graves left his group in the hands of his assistant, Scott McElhury, for the remainder of the trip.

Before returning to San Diego, Dr. Graves chose to spend some time with us, much to our delight.

Now we're traveling as a group of "Lucky 13" for a week and a half.

The second way in which my group has grown is weight-wise. But the weight is being distributed evenly. It leaves the boys and joins the girls.

Daira Paulson reminds Dr. Graves of the day he once said she would never weigh over 100 pounds.

"How," she asks, "can I weigh 112 here?"

Maruka Fernandez wonders how she can go without that ice cream, while Heather Boughton, looking at the practical side of the problem, is wondering what she'll fit into for college in the fall, since she leaves for school two days after we return.

John Barbour doesn't help the situation either. He suggests that we all go on a crash diet in France. Having sampled some of the food in France on our 1960 bicycle tour, I know better than to trust will power there. The food is too delicious.

A third way in which we've grown is educationally. Throughout our trip we have been talking with people of many countries and beliefs.

We have learned a great deal about them while at the same time learning to better appreciate what the United States has to offer.

As I write this, I see Patti Budros is gaining intellectually right now. She is presently playing with blocks with the hostel parent's son. She never hesitates to take

J. E. Stengel Takes Training In Air Force

Cadet Joseph E. Stengel Jr. recently completed the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) summer encampment at Williams AFB, Ariz.

The cadet, a member of the AFROTC unit at San Diego State College, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Stengel of 2443 Burgener Blvd.

Cadet Stengel observed and took an active part in various phases of base operations during the encampment period. Cadets are eligible for appointment as Air Force second lieutenants upon completion of their AFROTC training and graduation from college.

He is a graduate of Clairemont High School.

made me proud to be their leader.

What surprised us most was when the steward brought us each a cola with the compliments of the American couple. Needless to say, it hit the spot.

Since Luxembourg we have been having hot and quite often, humid weather. This is a real treat.

The only good we get from our raincoats now is as ground covers from our daily picnics of bread, cheese, salami, canned, or fresh fruit, cookies, etc.

With this weather Jack O'Leary comes in handy. The first thing he does when he reaches the daily destination is find the swimming pool.

The he, Peter Richard, Peter Puntney, and any one else who has (or is willing to buy) a bathing suit set off for a refreshing swim.

The girls have gone without since the suits are rather expensive here (including bikinis). It is not unusual to find the girls sitting in the foot baths at the hostels taking a cold water bath instead.

At Heidelberg, five of the group took a side trip to Stuttgart for a tour of the Mercedes Benz factory.

The five included Daira, Patti, Maruka, Peter Richards and Howard La Grange, took a tour of this extremely modern city by bus and spent the night in a unique hostel.

The rest of us rode on to Bad Wimpfen where we stayed in a unique hostel, the back of which was part of the wall around the city.

The next day we thought we only had 55 miles to ride. The 55 miles turned out to be 75 and extremely tiring.

Just before we reached Rothenburg we ran into our first real rain since England. There was lightning, thunder and downpour.

Peter P. and Dr. Graves were the only ones to put on their raincoats. Carolyn De Fever, Heather Boughton and I thought the fresh water felt great, especially since it was still quite hot.

But the people in cars thought we were crazy—first of all we were Americans on bicycles, and second—we were riding in the rain.

But this is what is unique about our trip and this is why we have so much fun. Our regrets so far are that our trip is now half over. The time has gone too fast.

OFFERS YOU ALL THESE EXTRA EARNING FEATURES

MORE INTEREST

The extra earning benefits available at Sentinel Savings makes saving at Sentinel more profitable than at other savings associations offering the same interest rate. Here's why:

DAILY INTEREST

As always, funds received or postmarked by the 10th earn from the 1st.

INTEREST TO DATE OF WITHDRAWAL

At all other San Diego Associations funds withdrawn between regular quarterly interest payment dates do not receive any interest. At Sentinel Savings interest is paid to the exact date of withdrawal on funds that have remained in your account for six months or more. This pays you ADDED INTEREST should it be necessary to withdraw at other than a regular interest payment date and assures you of receiving maximum earnings on your savings. (see chart)

Let's go to Church Sunday

Book Appraisal Sermon Topic

"Honest to God" is the title of a controversial book which has sold in great numbers.

Rev. William Forshaw will give an appraisal of it on Sunday at 11 a.m. at Union Congregational Church. The choir will sing the anthem, "The King of Love," by Shelley.

At 9:30 a.m. a motion picture on the life of St. Paul will be shown in the Fellowship Hall; also at 7 p.m.

Nursery care will be provided from 11 a.m. to noon.

Union Church Sets St. Paul Movie Series

"Stoning at Lystra," an episode from the Life of St. Paul series of motion pictures, will be shown Sunday, at 9:30 a.m. at Union Congregational Church of La Jolla. The episode shows Saul continuing his ministry under the Roman name of Paul. He and the disciples travel from Cyprus to Perga and on to Antioch where Paul is seized, flogged and thrown into prison.

"These and other events are reverently, accurately and dramatically portrayed," Rev. William Forshaw said. "The series is giving many people a new and vivid impression of the Life of St. Paul."

Parade Marks Opening Of Vacation School

A Saturday morning parade of decorated cars and singing children mark the opening of the annual vacation Bible school of the Pacific Beach Church of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

This year's theme, "Traveling God's Highway," will be properly introduced at a children's rally on the church lawn at 9:30 a.m., before the parade.

The parade will leave the Church at 10 a.m., traveling west on Grand Avenue, north on Mission Boulevard, east on Garnet, through Capehart, and returning to the church where official registrations for the school can be made. At this time free sno-cones will be given to all present.

Pastor Ted Zabel, minister of Christian education at the church and director of the school, announced that the first 50 boys and girls to register this week will receive special prizes. Last year 360 children enrolled in the school, making it one of the largest in the area.

Again this year's program will include Bible study, games, refreshments, handicrafts and missionary stories. The school meets Monday through Friday, Aug. 5-16, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. The Rev. Donald L. Bubna, pastor of the church, says transportation can be provided to the school and registrations can be made by calling 488-2400. There is no registration fee. All children ages 3-12 may register.

The church is located at 4240 Gresham St., Pacific Beach.

'Holy Spirit' Sermon Topic For Lutherans

On the eighth Sunday after Trinity at La Jolla Lutheran Church, Pastor Donhowe's sermon theme will be "The Holy Spirit—God's Answer for a Living Christ."

Pastor Johnson will be away on vacation. Holy Communion will be celebrated. There will be special music in the form of a duet by Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donnell.

There are Sunday School, high school and adult Bible classes for all ages every Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Pastor Donhowe will teach Pastor Johnson's Adult Bible class at 9:30 a.m. during Pastor Johnson's vacation. Nursery care is provided from 9:15 a.m. through the worship service each Sunday.

The Board of Christian Education will meet today, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Sund, 544 Orchid Lane, Del Mar, at 9:30 a.m.

Lord's Supper Sacrament To Be Observed

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed Sunday in the La Jolla Presbyterian Church at both worship services, 9 and 11 a.m.

The Rev. Harry T. Scherer, interim pastor, will present the communion meditation, "Christ's Prayer for His Church."

The summer choir will present choral music at both services under leadership of Howard Don Small, organist and choirmaster. The choir will sing the "Choral Communion Service," by Everett Titcomb, David Oldham, bass, will sing the solo, "Love Bade Me Welcome," by Vaughan Williams. Small's organ selection will be "O Guiltless Lamb of God," by J. S. Bach.

Church School classes from nursery through junior department will be conducted at 9 a.m. Sunday, and through the summer months.

Scientists To Hear Sermon At Services

"Love" will be the subject of the Bible lesson read in all Christian Science churches, Sunday.

Responsive reading includes this verse from I John (4:8): "He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love."

Also to be read is this passage from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The precise form of God must be of small importance in comparison with the sublime question, What is infinite Mind or divine Love?"

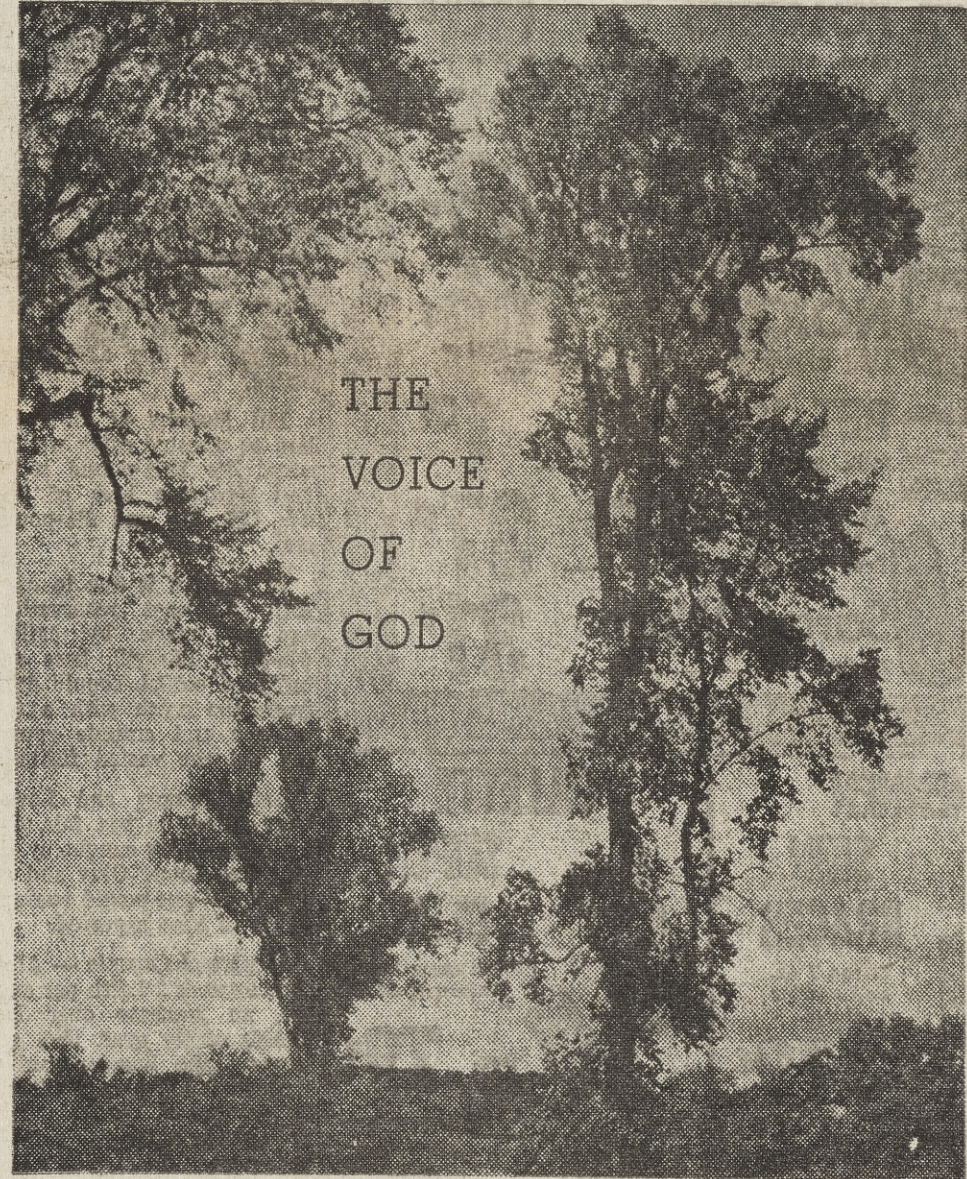

Church School Children Have Wonderful Time

Seventy-five children spent two weeks of learning and fun in the Daily Vacation Church School of St. David's Episcopal Church which ended Friday, and by their offerings they sent eight rabbits through the Heifer Project to needy people overseas.

Mrs. Richard Eskelson was in charge of the school which had as its theme "Christ's Way, My Way." An opening and closing service each day was conducted by Bill Gird, member of St. Dunstan's Guild of Servers and a leader in the Episcopal Young Churchmen.

Lessons centered around the experiences of the disciples and other early Christians, and film strips of the Life of Jesus were shown. The classes also had craft projects and learned memory verses, hymns, songs, prayers, and responses.

Other members of the staff were: Mmes. W. F. Bodenhamer, William Copeland, Richard Feild, Thomas Fawcett, Howard Flood, George D. Hemingway, David Hillier, Theresa Kinsey, William Licht, Harry Packard, and Edward Thompson. Also Misses Gail and Laurie Hemingway, Jonna Talbott, and Sharon Richardson.

Do you ever pause to listen to the voice of God? We hear it every day, wherever we may be

In the whispering of tall trees... the music of rushing brooks... the songs of the birds... the gay laughter of happy children... we hear the voice of the Great Creator. Through his infinite grace a bird is enabled to serenade his mate, a tiny cricket chirps its faint refrain. God is the Bringer of all blessings to man and beast alike.

Let us give thanks to Him who has so enriched our lives. Open church doors beckon all over our land. Let us seek the House of the Lord, and enter in to pay Him homage. Here through prayer and humility, let us re-dedicate ourselves to His service and glorification.

Sportsman's Corner

By JEAN SCOTT

Hunting regulations for the 1963 season were clarified last week through a special law passed by the Legislature.

The law renewed the Fish and Game Commission's authority to set seasons and bag limits and all regulations for 1963 already adopted by the Commission will govern hunting during the 1963 season. This new law means that the special antlerless or either sex deer hunts set by the Commission last month will be held as scheduled.

Pheasant season will be Nov. 23 to December 8 statewide and the Imperial-eastern Riverside season was set from the same starting date to Dec. 22. Southern California counties bag and possession limits are two pheasants of either sex per day and 10 per season. The mountain quail season is extended three weeks longer than last year, Sept. 28-Nov. 1, the daily bag and possession limit is six.

"Yellowtail" Derby?—Once again in a fish-off for prizes in the Yellowtail Derby, albacore was the sought after fish. Early in the week, a spokesman from Municipal Pier reported the fish-off boats would fish for yellowtail at the Coronados, but the albacore runs improved and the 600 qualified anglers went out after the torpedo-built tuna. With the derby contest depending more and more each year on the surge of albacore runs, it's time for a name change of the event.

A woman angler oozed out for the first prize and all prize winners were from out of town. Another lady angler, Stella Bauman from El Paso, Texas (wouldn't you know it—a lady and a Texan to boot) was the first place qualifier in the new derby period. Not only did she catch the largest fish of the week, a 39-pound, 2-ounce albacore, but her fish is the largest albacore caught so far.

All of the weekly qualifiers were in the plus 30 pound bracket, real tackle-busters.

Cash Derby—Mission Bay's Cash Derby is mounting, now over $1,100 the cash prize may topple any moment—just one of those lunker albacore 34 pounds or more could be the winner. Other species, bonito, barracuda yellowtail or bull bass are also eligible to cash-in if they meet the required weight posted at the Mission Bay Sportfishing Landing.

Lake Views — Sutherland Reservoir is proving to be a real fresh water hot spot. Averaging two bass per fisherman, again it was a lady who snared the top fish. Mrs. Ruth Buckner using black plastic worms caught a five-limit of bass with a six-pounder on her 21½-pound string.

Bill Murphy of El Cajon had an unusual catch weight-wise. His 19½-pound string had stair-step bass of 5½, 4½, 3½, 3½ and 2½-pound size.

El Capitan is due to open Aug. 1. Boat reservations can be made by calling 443-1254. Bluegill, bass and bullhead catfish should dominate the catch with a few walleye and crappie rounding out the varied fishing.

Lake Murray and Lower Otay fishing is just fair, one 6½-pound bass caught by Ed Nagle at Lower Otay and an occasional one-pound average limits of bass reported.

Weekend Capsule — Albacore catch is 2-3 fish per angler, an increase over last week's spotty runs. Fish are larger, take heavier tackle. Yellowtail schools are flitting in and out of the kelp beds at La Jolla, some fish sighted considered moss-back size. Barracuda limits, log size reported by half-day boats. Sutherland and El Capitan best for fresh water angling.

Pony Champs Step Closer To World's Series

Pacific Beach and Kearny Mesa, district pony league champs, advance a step closer to the world series at Washington, Pa., tonight when they play district games at Escondido.

In area finals Sunday Don Bair was the pitching star as he hurled Pacific Beach to a one-hit, 1-0 victory over Peninsula.

Kearny Mesa topped Clairemont, 8-5, in other action.

Jerry Lee singled home the game's only run in the eighth inning to give Pacific Beach its victory. Bair bested Danny Rebello in a brilliant pitching duel. Rebello allowed just two hits.

Escondido games will be played tonight and tomorrow night starting at 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday games will be played in the sun at times to be announced later.

District tournament director is Jerry Dean.

The fellow who sets a good example only when he has an audience lacks character.

Over-worry kills more people than over-work because more go in for one than the other.

Interested women have been invited to contact membership chairman Mrs. William E. Bowman of La Jolla or clubs and organizations chairman Mrs. Fred W. Beyer of Point Loma.

Membership committee members include Mmes. David L. Browning, Fred Rohr and T. Carl Thompson. Members of the clubs and organizations committee are Mmes. J. Clemente Cabello, M. E. Cobb, Harley Knox and Albert Tramonti.

Special charter member cards will be issued to women joining during the first year, Mrs. Cohn said. Charter members will meet for the first time in early October.

DAVID CONNELLE

A good thing to remember is that the fellow who has the best credit uses it the least.

Hair Stylist Connelle Named Salon Director

David Connelle, internationally-known hair stylist, has been named style director for The Lion Clothing Company's beauty salons. Lou Overgard, president and chief executive officer, said in announcing Connelle's appointment, "we are elated to have him with us on a permanent basis. Mr. Connelle has worked with The Lion for nearly seven years, training operators in our downtown beauty salon." Connelle, who is associated with Seligman & Latz, the largest organization of beauty salons in the world, also will have charge of the beauty salon in the new Lion store in La Jolla when it opens in September.

In the $1 million La Jolla store, Connelle will train the staff of 12 operators while working with them in the salon. Connelle recently returned from London, where he supervised the opening of a new Seligman & Latz salon. He has trained operators in the best stores in major cities of North America, including Neiman-Marcus, Dallas, Tex.; Goldwater's, Phoenix, Ariz.; Meyer & Frank, Portland, Ore. and Godchaux in New Orleans, La. For the past eight years Connelle has traveled throughout North America and to London, Paris and Mexico City from his headquarters in New York City.

Connelle is best known for originality of design in hair styling. He predicted fall hair styles will "show the smaller head look with smoother stylings."

When The Lion in La Jolla opens, Connelle will show an entire collection of the new hair styles.

Connelle, a native of Kansas City, Mo., is a graduate of Missouri Valley College. He served with the U. S. Navy during World War II and in 1946, following his discharge from the service, studied hair styling in Kansas City. Connelle became associated with Seligman & Latz in June.

TO BE WED— Mr. and Mrs. Michael Asaro of Point Loma announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosemarie, to Jeffrey Brent Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Alfred Graham of San Diego. The bride-elect is attending San Diego State College where she is affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority. Her fiancé also is attending San Diego State College. A January wedding is planned.

There's much kindness in the world, but few people do enough good 'turns to get dizzy.

SPEAKING OF... the brides... Lynne Chestnol, who changed her name to Mrs. Meredith Herbert Sessions Saturday evening... was almost in tears before she left on her honeymoon. Reason being... she had to say goodbye to her father John Chestnol as he had come from Sumatra for the wedding and had to return before the newlyweds are expected home from Mexico.

The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Stanley Sessions introduced Lynne to their North County friends recently at a tea held on Lynne's birthday (July 17) at the Sessions home in Del Mar. Lynne was also the honored guest at a shower given by her maid of honor Lyn Spalding at her home in Mission Hills. Pais of Ocean Beach, who returned recently from Tonopah, Nevada, where they put their own "good seal of approval" on their first grandson, Michael Eugene Pais. COUTURIER SHOW—Mems. R. Emerson Bond, Ross G. Tharp and Michael J. Coad, from left, were among those attending a committee meeting at Hotel del Charro for the couturier fashion show, sponsored by Women's Committee to the San Diego Symphony Orchestra Association. Mrs. Jack G. Whitney is general chairman of the annual affair scheduled Sept. 18 at El Cortez Hotel.

Art Rental Works Listed

Mmes. Donald F. Grannis, Van Duyn Ridgway and Robert Mosher recently returned from a tour of Los Angeles art galleries where they obtained a group of paintings, prints and sculptures to supplement La Jolla Art Center's summer rental collection.

The women are members of the Junior League of San Diego which operates the art rental service at the center. The new art will be on display beginning Saturday to coincide with the opening of the Henry Moore sculpture exhibit.

The rental art will include works by Southern California and other American artists. Mrs. James Haugh is chairman of the league committee operating the service.

Chairmen Selected For Couturier Show

Committee members for the 1963 couturier fashion show, to be presented Sept. 18 by Women's Committee to the San Diego Symphony Orchestra Association, met recently at Hotel del Charro to discuss plans for the forthcoming event. Mrs. Jack Galen Whitney is general chairman of the annual affair to be held in the International Room of El Cortez Hotel. An 11 a.m. social hour and noon luncheon will precede the 1 p.m. showing.

Theme of this year's 14th annual event will be "Curtain Call." Taking cues from the dramatic fashion forecasts for the coming season, the couturier is working with the Marston Company to present a Collection of American Designers for the show. The collection with be interspersed with sports-wear imports.

Mrs. T. Bruce Fredale is assisting Mrs. Whitney as co-chairman. Committee heads include Mmes. Clarke J. Bennett, area coordinator; Richard C. Weinberger, decorations; Robert W. Knowlton, historian; Harold B. Starkey, hostesses; Bonnell Noon, hotel arrangements; Eric H. Draper, invitations and mailing; Carl A. Trees, models; James C. Henderson and Lee L. Bloomenshine, programs; Ross G. Tharp, program sponsors; Phillip J. Maynard and E. Keene Wolcott, publicity; J. Edwin Lee, publicity advisor; R. Emerson Bond and Arlo E. Cornell, reservations; William G. Mirow and Grant B. Stone, seating; Betty Lorenz Blair, secretary; Leo L. Guichard, special events; R. Merl Ledford Jr., treasurer, and Raymond L. Cote Jr., co-treasurer.

Area chairmen include Mmes. Paul Schminke, La Jolla; Michael J. Coad, North San Diego; Harold J. Cokely, middle San Diego; Arthur Rivkin and Robert M. Callcott, East San Diego; Myron D. Collins, San Diego; James H. Rule, South Shores; Leon W. Johnson and Robert A. Brandt, Coronado, and Ernesto Ellis Tijuanita.

Mrs. Charles D. Holliday, president of the women's committee, is acting as advisor for the show.

Auxiliary Project Founded

Mercy Hospital Auxiliary has established a Shield of Mercy project to provide funds for the hospital.

Auxiliary members will invite friends of the hospital to make gifts in the name of persons they wish to honor on special days or in memoriam.

Cards announcing the contribution and bearing the donors' names will be sent to honorees or to families of those remembered in memorial gifts.

The names of those honored will be displayed in an honor book in the lobby of the hospital.

Mrs. Maurice F. Jackson, auxiliary president, said the gift is an excellent way to remember special occasions such as religious days or birthdays and a unique way for both giver and honoree to share actively in aiding the hospital.

Chairman of the project is Mrs. Robert A. C. Bridge. Her committee includes Mrs. Austin Madden and Mrs. Mary Nasche Arnold.

Wades Slate Garden Party

Maj. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, commanding general of the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, and Mrs. Wade will host a garden reception Aug. 16 in their Point Loma quarters honoring Marine Corps Gen. David M. Shoup.

The reception will follow a parade and review at MCRD in honor of Gen. Shoup.

Gen. Shoup will be here to address the 65th annual meeting of San Diego Chapter, American Red Cross.

A large number of civilian and military guests have been invited to the reception.

SCOUT CAMP—Mrs. Thomas Carey shows poster advertising Brownie and Girl Scout day camp to Diane Korra (center) and Celeste Parker. The camp sessions will begin Aug. 12 at San Clemente Canyon Park.

Camp Life Offers Fun, Thrills, Studies

By SHARLENE HITCHINGS

Scout Press Chairman

"Handi, I forgot to bring my dunk bag."

"Hey, Cheerio, look at the lizard I found!"

"When do we get to the overnight, Casey?"

These are typical statements you could hear if you attended a Girl Scout Day Camp session. The excitement, the fun, the skills learned, the scratches and bruises are all a part of day camp. It is, indeed, a unique experience, both for the girls and for the adults who volunteer their knowledge and skills.

This summer more than 80 Brownie and Intermediate Scouts will attend a new day camp in the North Shores area. Not since 1960, when Tecolote Canyon was used as a campsite, has there been a camp close to home for Clairemont area Scouts. This year San Clemente Canyon Park, west of Regents Road near University City, will be available from Aug. 12 through 22 for day camp activities.

Because San Clemente Canyon Park is a new area, this will be the most primitive site of the eight day camps to be held throughout San Diego County. It is an ideal day camp site. There are huge sycamore trees in the canyon, lizards and squirrels are found in abundance and wildflowers can be sighted along the dry creek bed. Of course, the day campers will have to learn to avoid the poison oak found within the confines of the area.

Emphasis at the San Clemente Day Camp will be on nature activities. Day campers will take hikes, learn to identify trees and plants, study animal habits, make nature crafts such as leaf-printing and lashing and take field trips to study seawater life.

Girls will also learn to build fires, make situpons and dunk bags, learn new songs and games, learn the care and use of knives and hatchets, and learn a language unique to camping (such as "tinder," "wide-game," "clove hitch," "buddy burner," etc.). The older Scouts will have off-site cookouts and take an overnight trip, probably to San Diego campsite.

Much preparation takes place long before the opening of day camp. Adult volunteers are recruited and trained, special activities are planned in advance, the campsite is cleaned up and arrangements are made for food and water. For those girls who have previously attended day camps and for those adults who volunteer their time and services year after year, the fun, the work, the knowledge and skills gained make it all worthwhile. The Girl Scouts believe in camping, for it builds lasting friendships, develops skills and creates in the open air a small world of good comradeship among girls and adults.

At present, 86 girls, mostly Brownie Scout ages, have registered for the San Clemente Day Camp. They will be held from Aug. 12 to 15 and 19 to 22. Monday through Thursday, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Girls will bring a sack lunch (known as a "nosebag") each day unless a special off-site cookout is planned.

Mrs. Thomas Carey, known to Girl Scouts as "Handi," will be director of the San Clemente Day Camp. She has four years of previous day camp experience. Assistant director and Brownie program advisor will be Mrs. William DeFur, who also has had much prior day camping experience. Mrs. Harry Mura

Jr., "Casey," will be business manager and advisor to the Intermediate Girl Scouts. Craft and nature consultant will be Mrs. Helen Smith, "Cheerio."

Mrs. C. W. Campbell will act as seawater life consultant. Junior High and Senior High Girl Scouts will be volunteer counselors. Still needed are a trained first-aid, a water safety instructor, and unit leaders and assistants. If you want to get in on the fun of camping and would like to help others, call Mrs. Carey, 273-1540. You'll have an experience you'll never forget. Ask any Girl Scout who has been a day camper and she'll tell you.

NEW SON

Dr. and Mrs. John R. Novak of Rancho Santa Fe are parents of a son, Michael Richard, born July 20 at Scripps Memorial Hospital.

Michael has three sisters, Melinda, Kelley and Beth. Paternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. John E. Novak. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Karl A. Weber of Westwood. Great grandmother is Mrs. John Novak of Cleveland, Ohio.

'Swan Lake' Listed As Luncheon Theme

"Swan Lake" will set the theme for the second symphonic preview luncheon to take place Monday on the green of the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park.

The preview luncheons are presented by Women's Committee of the San Diego Symphony Orchestra Association. Mrs. Vital Haynes, general chairman of the preview series, has appointed Mrs. Kenneth Stevenson chairman of Monday's luncheon.

Assisting Mrs. Stevenson will be Mmes. William E. Betts Jr., Richard W. Bourne, Arthur W. Carey, Milton R. Cheverton, Price D. Colburn, J. Frederick Conrad, Hodge N. Crabtree, W. W. Crawford Jr., William R. Dick, Robert Fadem, Edwin L. Glazener, William Glasson, John W. Henrickson, Albert F. Hindrelet, Alan Houser Jr., Evan V. Jones, Jack Knight, Thomas Moran, Harold G. Sadler, Kenneth D. Saum and John F. Wanless.

Sandwiches, cupcakes, cookies and fruit will be served by teenage hostesses Misses Susan Betts, Bonnie Carey, Linda Harbaugh, Katherine Hindrelet, Jenny Holliday and Susan Stevenson.

Mrs. Ross G. Tharp, beverage chairman, will be assisted by Mmes. Betty Lorenz Blair, T. Bruce Iredale and Robert Knowlton in serving coffee, tea and punch.

Decorations will feature shades of lavender and lilac. Paper ballerinas dancing on food booths will carry out the "Swan Lake" theme.

Luncheon lecturer will be Olga Maynard. She will describe compositional forms of the three ballet works to be presented at Tuesday evening's symphony in Balboa Park Bowl. Dancers from the San Diego Ballet will demonstrate characteristic movements from the works. Miss Maynard also will point out technical and costume evolutions between 19th and 20th century classical ballet.

The speaker is the author of three books on ballet, "The Ballet Companion," "The American Ballet" and "Bird of Fire," the biography of prima ballerina Maria Tallchief. She has lectured on ballet for colleges

For Women

Construction is now underway at California Western University on a new $225,900 addition to the newest women's residence hall.

The new 17,000-square-foot addition will be ready for occupancy in the later part of October. The modern structure, built of wood, stucco, and concrete block, will add 46 rooms for 92 women students. Total resident housing will be available for some 748 students when the addition is completed.

According to the University's architect, Richard John Lareau, AIA, of San Diego, the unit will feature a large upper lounge designed in natural oak and sky-blue colored walls, and will have a panoramic view of the Pacific Ocean from the campus which is in the wooded area on Point Loma.

The new wing will connect to the double wings constructed in 1962 with wood and glass connecting corridor. The rooms will be complete with modern built-ins and series of rooms will be decorated in different color schemes to give variety and identity to the rooms.

Edwin Harris, a local contracting firm, was awarded the construction project.

CAMPER ORIENTATION—Northwest YMCA Lazy-Y Ranch Day Camp counselor, Meryl Dexheimer, 4516 Niagara, Ocean Beach, with aide Richard Smith, 2741 Luna Avenue, Clairemont, inform their assigned children that the week's program will include daily "thought of the day" followed by physical fitness exercises, swimming, crafts, horseback riding, overnight camping and a trip to Disneyland.

Sciots Plan Yuletide Party For Children

"Christmas In The Summer" will be the theme of the program scheduled to take place Sunday at Russ Auditorium, sponsored by the Pacific Beach Sciots when they entertain the handicapped children of San Diego, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The Shrine Band and Clowns will participate, and there will also be magic acts, folk singing and dancing. Among the local acts that will take part will be Mary Jo Bakich, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bakich, 2602 Greyling Dr., Serra Mesa, who will dance the "Can Can." Four-year-old Rose Marie Bakich, a veteran performer since the age of two, and her sister, Ann Marie, 12, who has entertained for the USO and Navy since the age of 5, will also appear.

Gary Larson, 14, of Point Loma, will perform in a Charleston dance act. The Kirk-Pats and Jobs Daughters are serving as hostesses. They will decorate the auditorium with six Christmas trees, tinsel, and other yuletide ornaments to enhance the theme.

Guild Corner

The Art Guild Corner in the Fine Arts Gallery, Balboa Park, will feature the work of the following San Diego area artists:

Maurie McClees Brown, "George, He's Almost Grown," oil; Eve Gilchrist, "Still Life With Red," collage; Mabel Hutchinson, "Barrier-of-Zen," wood relief; Phyllis Gormish, "Untitled," crayon; Marvella Stickney, "Textured Bottle," stone-ware; and Helen Stocks, "Bird Dance," oil.

Many of the above works are for rent or may be purchased.

"AROUND THE WORLD"— "The Surfer," 711 Pacific Beach Drive, recently opened its new surfside restaurant and cocktail lounge with an "around the world" cuisine. Nations represented change weekly. The menu is family-type with specials daily for both luncheon and dinner. Both look out over the blue Pacific, and at night spotlights will light up the surf and give patrons a thrilling view of surfers "riding the waves." "The Surfer," is the only motor hotel in San Diego that can boast "step out of the pool and in a few feet, walk into the surf."

Lifelike Quality Missing From Festival's 'Antony And Cleopatra'

By DON BANE
Sentinel Drama Editor

Lifelessness and unreality are the common traits of characters in the Old Globe production of "Antony and Cleopatra," third offering in the National Shakespeare Festival.

The tragic quality of Shakespeare's play lies in the fact that even the greatest of men and women can bring ruin upon themselves and their nations through the truly human "flaw" of uncontrolled love.

But these people never spring to life on the Globe stage, and at the end of the evening the power and drama of the tragedy are found missing; it's just another performance of Shakespeare.

The production is ponderous and over-long, and some miscasting is evident, as well as some pointedly bad direction.

Little Relief

There is little relief from the weight of the ponderous acting, as nearly every actor recites nearly every line as if it were something with which to be reckoned mightily.

The one performance that shows the spark of life is turned in by Ed Flanders in two small roles. As a ragged soothsayer, Flanders forecasts the doom awaiting Antony and Cleopatra, and receives applause for his few small moments on stage.

Then, near the end, he reappears as the asp-bearing servant and in a short exchange with Cleopatra, provides a living moment on the stage. Flanders has been the standout performer of this year's festival.

A few others lend credence to their roles, but none comes to the play with the fine edge exhibited by Flanders. Joe Angarola does an acceptable job as Menas, and Stephen Joyce, as Enobarbas, shows his despair after he has betrayed his general.

Comes Close

Although Louis Edmonds comes close to creating a real Mark Antony, he falls short of the greatness of the Roman general. Antony's deterioration should be gradual, throughout the play, but Edmonds shows a man who can't leave women alone. His death scene is almost agonizing.

Jacqueline Brookes' Cleopatra isn't acceptable. I can't believe this is the queen of the Nile, who can turn the head of any living man, then torture him to destruction. She's a noble lady, not a capricious, sultry siren as the queen should be.

Nicholas Kepros seems overcome with the importance of Octavius Caesar, for every word he says is deliberately studied and pondered, then spoken importantly with the feeling that "these are the words of Caesar, do not forget them."

The play has all the variation of a metronome, and the subtlety of a set of kettledrums. Hardly the instruments on which to perform a symphony.

Although Peggy Kellner's costumes are beautiful, they are not in keeping with the play. It is common to costume Shakespeare in almost any period, including contemporary.

However, the historical quality of this play, as well as the incongruity of mixing costumes of the Queen of Egypt and one of her servants, interferes.

And lost as well is all the contrast between the sensual, almost decadent opulence of Egypt and the brittle, hard, cold-steel vigor of Rome.

This opinion is based, of course on the opening night performance. In a short time the actors may better adjust to an extraordinarily difficult play.

I hope so, for one of the Globe's merits is outstanding Shakespeare productions, and this one should rank as one of the finest. Right now, however, it falls considerably short of that mark.

Readers' Views

Editor, The Sentinel:

Many commissions are appointed by various interests without sense, common or otherwise.

Calling people extremists because of honest concern and beliefs about the UN is not consistent with the statement.

"While we respect the right of individuals or groups to express an opinion, we do feel that some of the methods and charges are not in keeping with our democratic tradition of responsibility."

You keep your opinions and act as you see fit. We who are for sending the UN packing have the same right.

The sly mention of a past President and the present being traitors is a nice touch but quite untrue of the majority of the people who deeply feel that the UN is a threat and a serious one to the sovereignty of the Republic of the United States and its people.

I believe Alger Hiss and others who were in at the birth of the UN.

The top heavy building on the East River in New York City I am sure can be put to better use than is now being made of it.

Many whose bills we pay are using it to bring about the destruction of our country and our people.

Newspapers are printing about such types rather often.

A letter shall be written, out with the UN.

Sincerely,
Ann Barrett

Circle Arts Stars Claim Theater Here Is Palace Compared To Others

Richard Banke and Eileen Christy are not the new Nelson Eddie and Jeanette MacDonald, but that's as it should be, for they each have a special talent of their own and shouldn't be compared.

The two young singing and acting wonders are performing now at Circle Arts Theater in "Paint Your Wagon," the Frankie Laine starrer.

These kids look as great at poolside at the Sands Hotel as they do on stage, and talking to them gives you a new insight into American musical theater.

Since they appeared here last year in "The Student Prince," the two have been busy, Eileen singing and acting, Banke singing, acting and in the hospital.

She went to Hawaii to perform, and had what she called a wonderful vacation, then returned to the Mainland to perform in several things.

In Kismet
He went to Los Angeles to perform with Alfred Drake in "Kismet" at the Philharmonic, and stayed for almost six months.

"I was set for a nice, paid vacation at Las Vegas," he says sadly, "when I wound up in the hospital and couldn't do the job."

But he has a couple of television commercials out, girls, so start staring your eyeballs square.

Their term for the new Circle Arts Theater is "palace."

"If anyone doubts it, he should see some of the summer stock tents we've played in," Banke insists. He never goes to summer stock without rain boots.

"The rain washed out one theater I played in, and the audience in the first three rows had to sit with their feet tucked under them or soak."

Strong Wind
"In another theater we (the actors) had to hold the lines and drive stakes ourselves, or the tent would have blown away."

While Miss Christy's favorite musicals run more to the contemporary works, Banke is fond of the old-timers. He loves "Student Prince," "New Moon," and others of that ilk, and the role he'd rather play than any other is Jose in "Carmen Jones."

"It could be done, despite the fact it's a Negro role," Banke said. "In fact, I was being considered for the role in the City Center (New York) production, and almost snagged it."

Miss Christy wants to play Nellie Forbush, the "knuckle-headed nurse" in "South Pacific."

"Then I want to play DeBeque," Banke countered. The two make a perfect team, and are one of the rare combinations of musical theater: actors who can sing (or singers who can act).

Reality

In their present roles, there's a reality to their characters which can only be produced by real actors concentrating completely on what they're doing on-stage.

Eileen portrays a young girl, growing to maturity while being shuffled around the gold camps of California. She changes from a youngster on the threshold of maturity at the opening, to a young adult, eager to take her place as a mature person in the world.

Banke, meanwhile, plays a drifting and dreaming Mexican gold-seeker, with a strain of "noble blood." He's attracted to the girl, then later falls in love with her, and after sundry adventures, the two end up in each other's arms.

Their voices are ideally suited to each other. Miss Christy's full, lovely soprano combines in several numbers with Banke's expressive tenor to send shivers along the spinal columns of their listeners.

Background

She's from Canada, while he's a Chicagoan. They both worked New York, then summer stock, and finally have worked in "Glitterville, the cinema capital of the world."

They've played on stage together even before "Student Prince," and definitely plan to work together again.

While Banke has no definite plans after "Wagon" ends this week, Miss Christy will bounce around the country in several shows, including one or two at Movieland Theater in Anaheim.

That's not too far for her fans to drive, so maybe we'll see her there. Meanwhile, the two young people, who have already made good careers for themselves together and separately, are having a swell time on the mesa, and their audiences are having a ball, too. DB.

ROMANTIC PAIR—Richard Banke and Eileen Christy two stars of Circle Arts Theater's "Paint Your Wagon," are old favorites with San Diego audiences, having appeared here last year. They consider the local theater a "palace," compared with other summer stock theaters around the country.

Music Review

Earl Wild Okay, But Orchestra Is Poor

In some ways a "pops" concert demands more rehearsing, more concentrated effort and simply more "musical know-how" than the usual classical symphony program.

It is necessary that, in both cases, such general essentials as precise ensemble playing, technical proficiency, rhythmic accuracy, and a unified tone production must exist. When these basic elements are an inherent part of an orchestra, then, and only then, does it dare to swing into the uninhibited world of "pops," or, to be more specific, Gershwin.

The San Diego Pops Orchestra, with pianist Earl Wild, almost succeeded in achieving this sort of controlled freedom in the well-known "Rhapsody in Blue," part of an all-Gershwin program last week.

The orchestra did not even come close during the rest of the program. They not only displayed a complete lack of togetherness but they didn't swing!

Wild played with a clean-cut, brilliant style. Tagged as a Gershwin exponent early in his career, he has had difficulty shaking off the tag. One can hope that he will return soon, either in a solo recital or with the orchestra performing another composer's work.

It was apparent that he was struggling to keep the Concerto in F from falling to pieces.

This certainly was not his fault. The orchestra, playing bloodily at its worst, gave Wild no help whatsoever. Granted that there were some admirable solo passages performed by Emile, Schuster, Baker and Greeno, the general feeling was that emanating from an unmovable granite statue of Gershwin, rather than from the live, warm, creative Gershwin. Certainly he was not a cold, stone statue when he composed this music!

Nevertheless, Wild managed to pull the orchestra along because of his own mastery of the keyboard and knowledge of the composition. He emitted a beautiful, warm tone. Any suggestion of strained phrasing or misplaced rubatos was due to an interpretive difference between Wild and Murray. The final ending of the piece was almost chaotic, the orchestra was so ragged.

The ensemble seemed to feel more at home with the Rhapsody in Blue. For the most part, the orchestra captured the blues spirit, which covered over the few rough spots. Wild, no longer having to compete with a ponderous accompaniment, exhibited colorful dexterity along with a very clear awareness of the musical line.

Two orchestral works completed the programs: "Porgy and Bess" arranged by Robert Russell Bennett, one of Broadway's foremost arrangers, and "An American in Paris." This particular arrangement of "Porgy" is extremely stilted, the blues flavor is lost, and the orchestra did not help by rendering it so laboriously.

"Paris" came off much better simply because it was not distorted by a poor arrangement and the orchestra gave it a fair trial. However, the light, happy quality was missing, and playful innovations throughout the piece were lost within an all too frequent mushy brass section.

Rotary Clubs Attend Council Meet Monday

Twenty-three out of the 25 clubs in the Rotary circle attended a Rotary County Council meeting in National City, Monday night.

"It was one of the largest get-togethers we've had to date," said council president Thomas.

The meeting was held at the Plaza Bowl.

A highlight of the meeting was a panel discussion on the importance of classifications and the importance of Rotarians keeping them.

Rev. Gaston Returns From Month Vacation

The Pacific Beach Community Church, 4730 Noyes St. will welcome back the pastor, Rev. Paul R. Gaston, who has been on vacation during the month of July.

The pastor will begin a series of sermons on four of the greatest of human needs: peace, prayer, patience and power. The sermon Sunday will feature the human need for peace.

Also returning after a brief absence will be Bob E. Gaston, who will resume his duties as choir director.

Starlight Will Open 'King And I'

"The King and I" Starlight's production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's smash musical success, opens at Balboa Park Bowl, Aug. 8, for a three-week run.

The tuneful, sentimental portrayal of life amid the splendors of an Oriental palace complete with slave girls, villains and exotic harem beauties, played to standing-room-only audiences on Broadway for more than three years.

Based on the novel, "Anna and the King of Siam," the two-act play is set in the Royal Siamese palace at Bangkok, and tells of the East-meets-West conflict between Anna and the King, whose affection for each other is a subtle under-plot of the moving musical drama.

Cast as the prim but adamant school teacher who comes to Siam to teach the King's 77 children is Maribel Millard, popular San Diego summer theater leading lady.

Charle Wyman, a veteran of 49 Eastern stock and theatrical productions, will play the role of the autocratic King Mongkut.

In the part of Lady Thiang, the King's number one wife, will be Joanne Regenhart, who won critical acclaim for the same role in Starlight's 1958 production. Cast as the ill-fated lovers are Thelma Comacho, who recently won the title of Miss Teen Age San Diego, and Zack Zuber, a San Diego school teacher.

The children who will play the parts of the King's many offsprings are all local theatrical hopefuls, chosen for the roles during auditions held earlier this year.

Rich humor is apparent throughout the production, especially in the barbed dialogue between the tyrannical king and the resolute teacher who spat verbally over such subjects court ethics, polygamy and the art of teaching. Among the songs—many of which are now American standards—will be heard "Getting To Know You," "Hello Young Lovers," "I Whistle A Happy Tune," and "Shall We Dance?"

"The Desert Song," second of Starlight's 1963 productions, will run today through Sunday. Tickets may be obtained at the downtown ticket office, Borgens Music, 700 Broadway or at the Balboa Park box office, open at 5:30 p.m. on performance nights. Tickets are also on sale at all Highlander stores.
